Contents

Introduction ................................................................. xiii

Part 1. Historical Developments and Contemporary Modalities of Interactions between Education and Territories . . . 1

Introduction to Part 1 .......................................................... 3

Chapter 1. What Role Should Territories Play in Public Education Policies? .................................................. 5
Bruno GARNIER
  1.1. Summary ................................................................. 5
  1.2. Introduction ............................................................ 5
  1.3. Can the policy of recognition be established in France? 6
  1.4. Globalization and national identity ................................ 8
  1.5. Territorialization of education policies ........................... 10
  1.6. Conclusion .............................................................. 12
  1.7. Bibliography ........................................................... 13

Alain BOUVIER, Michel BOYER, Thierry EYMARD and Laurent RIEUTORT
  2.1. Summary ................................................................. 19
  2.2. Introduction ............................................................ 19
  2.3. Territories and the educational system: renewed challenges 20
    2.3.1. The student at the center of a territorialized educational ecosystem .......................................................... 20
    2.3.2. Geographical change: from “identity territory” to “network territory” ..................................................... 22
2.3. Evolutions of the Complex Relationship Between Education and Territories

2.3.3. Seek coupling and collaboration among educational spaces

24

2.4. A research-action project

26

2.4.1. Knowledge based for co-construction within the territories

26

2.4.2. Quebec experience: community school

27

2.4.3. First step in collecting practices

28

2.5. Territorial risk management: first points of view

29

2.5.1. Which drivers? Being promoters of open, integrative and territorialized educational practices

29

2.5.2. What actions? Address the challenge of success and build partnerships

30

2.5.3. Which territories? At the heart of a new territoriality

32

2.6. Conclusion

35

2.7. Bibliography

35

3.1. Summary

37

3.2. Introduction

37

3.3. Educational success: responsibility of local actors

39

3.3.1. An increasingly global and territorialized action

39

3.3.2. Education at the heart of the territory project

42

3.4. Networks of actors in the field of education

48

3.4.1. Reformulation of social and educational action

48

3.4.2. Toward a “learning territory” approach

54

3.5. Conclusion

58

3.6. Bibliography

59

Chapter 4. “Education For”, Territories and Positions of Teachers: Rupture and Tension

4.1. Summary

61

4.2. Introduction

61

4.3. School model and territories

62

4.4. An inclusion for what purpose?

63

4.5. “Create a community” to address development challenges

66

4.5.1. Project modality

66

4.5.2. Possible forms and desirable form

67

4.6. Conclusion and perspectives: social responsibility of the school undertaken

71

4.7. Bibliography

72
Chapter 5. Education for Sustainable Development and Territories: Toward a New Age of Educational Relationships with Territories in Agricultural Education? 77

Christian PELTIER

5.1. Summary 77
5.2. Introduction 78
5.3. Structuring elements of the link with the territory in agricultural education 79
  5.3.1. Specificities enhancing opening to the territories 79
  5.3.2. An old anchorage and new perspectives 80
  5.3.3. A double difficulty: problematization and knowledge-tools 83
  5.3.4. The opportunity of the “teach to produce differently” strategic project 84
5.4. An educational approach by territorialized integrative objects 85
  5.4.1. The concept of integrative object 85
  5.4.2. A didactic and territorial approach to integrative objects 86
  5.4.3. Knowledge at stake: cognitive and conceptual approach to territorialized integrative objects 87
5.5. Issues posed by teaching activities on some territorialized integrative objects 88
  5.5.1. Badger 89
  5.5.2. Chicken breeding 91
  5.5.3. The vegetable garden 92
5.6. Conclusion 93
5.7. Bibliography 95

Case Study 1. What Levers Exist for Preventing Orientation and Education Inequalities of Territorial Origin in Adult Training? Case of the Bio-construction Regional Vocational Training Center in the Southern Alps 99

Valérie GUILLEMOT

Part 2. Territories as Sources of Pedagogical Renewal 115

Introduction to Part 2 117

Chapter 6. Local Territory in French School Geography 119

Christine VERGNOLLE MAINAR, Sophie GAUJAL and Caroline LEININGER-FREZAL

6.1. Summary 119
6.2. Introduction 119
6.3. Local setting in the teaching of geography: a variable place according to the eras and levels of education 121
6.3.1. 19th-20th Century: back and forth of the study of local setting in syllabuses ............................................. 121
6.3.2. 21st Century: the primacy of the local setting in primary school, introducing the local setting in secondary schools ............................................. 123
6.4. Relevance of the local setting in contemporary school geography: a challenge for teachers ............................................. 126
   6.4.1. Inhabiting: an epistemologically vague term ............................................. 126
   6.4.2. Difficulties in handling the local setting ............................................. 128
   6.4.3. Studying the local setting: a vector to transform ordinary practices ............................................. 130
6.5. Conclusion ............................................. 132
6.6. Bibliography ............................................. 133

Chapter 7. When Territorial Commitment Gives Meaning to Professional Activity: Cases of Teachers in Rural Schools in France, Chile and Uruguay ............................................. 135
Catherine ROTHENBURGER

7.1. Summary ............................................. 135
7.2. Introduction ............................................. 135
7.3. Theoretical contributions ............................................. 136
7.4. Methodology ............................................. 137
7.5. Findings ............................................. 138
   7.5.1. Search for the territory social recognition and learning: common bases of a territorial commitment ............................................. 138
   7.5.2. Territorial commitment: what local issues and actions? ............................................. 140
7.6. Conclusion ............................................. 142
7.7. Bibliography ............................................. 144

Chapter 8. Relatedness with the Non-Human Environment and Motivation Systems: Keys to Include the Territory in Environmental Education ............................................. 147
Christian REYNAUD, Rouba REAIDI and Serge FRANC

8.1. Abstract ............................................. 147
8.2. Introduction ............................................. 147
8.3. A complex model of human motivations ............................................. 148
8.4. Relatedness between non-human environment and motivation ............................................. 150
8.5. Relatedness, sensitive approach to environmental education and motivation ............................................. 151
8.6. Conclusion ............................................. 153
8.7. Bibliography ............................................. 153
Chapter 9. Territory-Based Education in Elementary Schools:
PNR Queyras-EN Projects

Sylviane BLANC-MAXIMIN and Michel FLORO

9.1. Summary .......................................................... 155
9.2. Introduction ...................................................... 155
9.3. School–territory relationships faced with different types of conflicts... 156
9.4. The concept of territory-based education ..................................... 157
  9.4.1. Know-how favored by territory ...................................... 158
  9.4.2. A cultural mediator aspect ......................................... 159
  9.4.3. The territory via its local heritage: promoter of values? .......... 160
  9.4.4. Territory-based education? ........................................ 161
  9.4.5. Conditions for the integration of the school in its territory. ........ 161
9.5. Case study: partnership territorial educative project in the Queyras valley. ......................................................... 162
  9.5.1. Queyras and its writing tradition ................................ 162
  9.5.2. Methodology ........................................................ 163
9.6. Results .................................................................. 164
  9.6.1. Acquisition of local know-how ...................................... 164
  9.6.2. Unleashing the power of expression ................................ 165
  9.6.3. Ambitious pedagogic approach ..................................... 165
  9.6.4. Civic values? .......................................................... 165
  9.6.5. Education on local heritage ......................................... 166
  9.6.6. Making people responsible? ....................................... 166
  9.6.7. Heritage: a risk of isolationism .................................... 166
9.7. Conclusion ................................................................ 167
  9.7.1. Anchoring a mountain territory in primary school partnership projects ......................................................... 167
  9.7.2. A dynamic territory .................................................. 168
  9.7.3. Which emancipation? ............................................... 168
  9.7.4. The territory, a dynamic tool for education ....................... 169
9.8. Bibliography ............................................................ 169

Chapter 10. Sensitive Postcard of a Local Territory:
Development and Issues

Sophie GAJUAL

10.1. Summary .............................................................. 173
10.2. Introduction .......................................................... 173
10.3. First stage (T1): an ordinary course that promotes reasoned geography .......................................................... 174
10.4. Second stage (T2): generating spontaneous geography through a field trip .......................................................... 175
12.3. Key components of the conceptual framework

12.3.1. Educational inequalities, academic inequalities, career orientation inequalities

12.3.2. Territory and territoriality: two related composite concepts

12.4. The case of rural mountain area schools

12.4.1. The initial question

12.4.2. Main characteristics of the rural mountain area school

12.4.3. Current developments: toward a gradual “deconstruction” of the historical specificity of the rural mountain area school?

12.5. Approaches to the relationships between career orientation and territoriality

12.5.1. Historical background and societal challenges

12.5.2. Career orientation in rural mountain areas

12.5.3. Adapting the school to the local context

12.5.4. “Effects of territory”?

12.6. Conclusions: main achievements of the research, pending issues, thematic continuity and elaboration and avenues for research

12.6.1. Main achievements of the research

12.6.2. Pending issues

12.6.3. Thematic continuity and elaboration

12.6.4. Toward a theoretical reappraisal?

12.6.5. By way of proper “conclusion”

12.7. Bibliography

Chapter 13. Toward Convergences between Rural and Urban? Comparative Analyses of Educational Contexts and Social Representations in CM2

Pierre CHAMPOLLION

13.1. Summary

13.2. Introduction

13.3. Problem and current developments

13.4. Corpus and methodology

13.4.1. Corpus

13.4.2. Methodology

13.5. Findings and analyses

13.5.1. Contexts (cultural and family)

13.5.2. Territorial social representations (of surrounding and remote territories)

13.5.3. Perceived behaviors, assessed-projected performances and orientation-insertion projects <table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section/Chapter</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>13.5.4.</td>
<td>General overview of section 13.5</td>
<td>283</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>13.6.</td>
<td>Provisional findings and research avenues</td>
<td>284</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>13.7.</td>
<td>Bibliography</td>
<td>286</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chapter 14</td>
<td>The Inadequacy of French Rural School Public Policies</td>
<td>289</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14.1.</td>
<td>Summary</td>
<td>289</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14.2.</td>
<td>Introduction</td>
<td>289</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14.3.</td>
<td>Rural school contexts and recent research developments</td>
<td>290</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14.3.1.</td>
<td>Age-old delay of the rural school and its poor image</td>
<td>290</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14.3.2.</td>
<td>The reversal of trends from the 1990s: toward the observation of good academic performance of rural students</td>
<td>291</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14.3.3.</td>
<td>What recent studies on the rural school apparently reveal: the end of rural student specificity?</td>
<td>292</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14.3.4.</td>
<td>Rural students’ school projects are becoming less and less specific</td>
<td>295</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14.3.5.</td>
<td>Rural students’ professional plans are no longer significantly marked by their territory of residence</td>
<td>297</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14.3.6.</td>
<td>End of rural students’ attachment to their territory?</td>
<td>301</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14.4.</td>
<td>End of rural students “specificity” and inadequacy of public education policies</td>
<td>303</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14.4.1.</td>
<td>What the General Inspectorate’s reports said about rural schools</td>
<td>303</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14.4.2.</td>
<td>Territorialized educational policies in view of rural developments</td>
<td>304</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14.5.</td>
<td>Conclusion</td>
<td>306</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14.6.</td>
<td>Bibliography</td>
<td>307</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Case Study 3</td>
<td>Comparison of Rural and Urban Area Girls’ Career Orientation at the End of Troisième</td>
<td>309</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Boris MEUNIER</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Conclusion</td>
<td></td>
<td>319</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>List of Authors</td>
<td></td>
<td>325</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Index</td>
<td></td>
<td>327</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>