
Contents

Epigraph	ix
Foreword	xi
Preface	xvii
Acknowledgments	xxxix
Introduction	xxxiii
Chapter 1. A Plurality of Anthropology, a Permanence of Symbolic Mediations	1
1.1. Anthropologies....	1
1.2. Anthropology and communication.	6
1.3. Political anthropology	8
1.3.1. Intangible and omnipresent, the mystical nature of power	12
1.3.2. Complexity and ambiguities of “power on stage”	14
1.3.3. Rituals, power, and symbolic effectiveness ..	20
1.3.4. The dark side of power... ..	22
Chapter 2. The Ritual, a “Total Scientific Object”	25
2.1. The eternal question of the purpose of the ritual	25

2.1.1. From ritual order to the central importance of the king	29
2.2. The ritual as a “cultural form”	30
2.2.1. Form in the social sciences	30
2.2.2. Return to the ritual as a material, theoretical, and symbolic “form”	32
2.3. The ritual device.	35
2.4. The symbolic effectiveness of the ritual, between context and performance.	39
2.4.1. From the system to the context	39
2.4.2. From “primary framework” to “transformed framework”	43
2.4.3. The “ritual body”...	44
2.4.4. ...to the “ritual performance”	47
2.5. Opening up to the myth...	49
Chapter 3. Rituals and the Media	53
3.1. Communication objects: anthropological issues	53
3.1.1. The long genealogy of ritual media	54
3.2. Rituals and media: cross interests, coupled effects	55
3.2.1. Are media events really events?	59
3.2.2. The symbolic power of media rituals	60
3.2.3. The emergence and particularities of a fully fledged media genre	61
3.3. The social functions of ritual media	62
3.3.1. A singular inversion, from current events to history.	65
3.4. From media to new media: toward disintermediation.	67
3.5. The underlying issue of disintermediation.	70
3.6. Toward new “ digital liturgies”?	71
Chapter 4. The Ritual Institution of Society.	73
4.1. The double-ideal ritual	73
4.1.1. From the “communicative facade” to the “principle of magnificence”	73
4.1.2. Theatrical, spectacular and specular ritual.	81
4.1.3. The ritual fascination.	89

4.1.4. “Spect-actors”	96
4.1.5. From “presentation of self” to “representing the collective Body”	99
4.1.6. The community ritual, an expression of a social doctrine.	101
4.1.7. The “double ritual constraint”	108
4.1.8. From another West...	112
4.2. “Ritual regimes”	116
4.2.1. Community and social rituals	118
Glossary	123
References	133
From the Same Author	143
Index	147