
Contents

Introduction	vii
Chapter 1. Positions: Some Specificities of a Research Approach Compared to a Professional Approach	1
1.1. A difference in position between that of the social or professional actor and that of the researcher	1
1.2. The challenge of research is to move from a social/professional question to a research question	5
1.3. The challenge of research is also to focus on common-sense concepts	6
1.4. The issue of the epistemological choices made by the researcher and the implications	8
Chapter 2. Practices: Conducting a Research Project and Data Security Issues	11
2.1. Introduction: the research context.	11
2.2. Scientific approach and methods in the social sciences	13
2.3. From research topic to problem statement.	15
2.3.1. The initial question	15
2.3.2. The exploratory approach	16
2.3.3. Problem statement	18
2.4. Design of the survey protocol	19
2.4.1. Survey field and participants	20
2.4.2. Negotiating the survey and field access with the Local Education Authority and management teams: a project to be defended	21
2.4.3. General Data Protection Regulation on personal data and documents produced	22
2.5. The construction of data collection instruments	35

2.5.1. Constructing the questionnaire	35
2.5.2. Composing the interview guide	45
2.6. Data collection	48
2.6.1. Time in the field	48
2.6.2. Administering the questionnaires	51
2.6.3. Administering interviews	53
2.6.4. GDPR, tasks and constraints	55
2.7. Data processing	57
2.7.1. Clean up the database	57
2.7.2. Transcribing	62
2.8. Data analysis	63
2.8.1. Analyzing questionnaires	64
2.8.2. Interview analysis.	88
2.9. Dissemination and publication of results	97
2.9.1. Group dossier	97
2.9.2. Reports, conferences and research articles	104
Chapter 3. Forms: Research Cultures, Diversity of Forms and Interdisciplinary Issues	111
3.1. Recognizing different research “cultures”	111
3.2. External research, engaged research, collaborative research, action research and related issues	114
3.3. Mono-, pluri-, inter- and transdisciplinary research and related issues.	119
3.4. Communication and valorization of research (its outcomes and methodological steps)	122
3.5. Pursuing a doctorate.	124
3.6. Careers in research and higher education	127
Conclusion	133
Appendix 1. Questionnaire	137
Appendix 2. Interview Guide.	153
Appendix 3. Quiz.	157
References	169
Index	173