
Contents

Introduction	ix
Irimi MICHA and Dina VAIYOU
Chapter 1. A City of One's Own. Territorialities of Migrant Women in Public Spaces.	1
Camille SCHMOLL
1.1. Migrant women in Southern Europe	2
1.2. Diversity of migration patterns, but common subordination	3
1.3. An incongruous presence: moral geographies of the public space	5
1.4. And yet they go out: mixed uses of public spaces.	9
1.5. In the interstices of the city	11
1.6. Body politics in public spaces	13
1.7. Conclusion	15
1.8. References	16
Chapter 2. Spatialized Hierarchies: Mirror Effects Between Migrants and Non-migrants in Terzigno (Naples)	21
Adelina MIRANDA
2.1. Scientific co-presence and research relations "at home"	24
2.2. Spatialization of migratory forms	27

2.3. Tensions in and between domestic and public spaces	33
2.4. Conclusion	37
2.5. References	38
Chapter 3. The Power of Speed and the Governance of Space in Urban Life	43
Gabriella PAOLUCCI
3.1. For a definition of the concept of time–space compression.	44
3.2. The fragmented experience. Acceleration in the void and lack of time	49
3.3. The power of resentment	55
3.4. References	57
Chapter 4. Gendered Aspects of the Everyday. Restructurings of Urban Life in Athens	59
Dina VAIIOU
4.1. Spatializing everyday life.	62
4.2. Everyday encounters in the neighborhoods of Athens	65
4.3. Living with “strangers”: reciprocal adaptations and invisible borders	74
4.4. References	76
Chapter 5. Children’s Everyday Flows and Networks in the Neighborhoods of Athens	81
Irini MICHA
5.1. Theoretical arguments.	85
5.2. Alternating images of the city of Athens	87
5.3. The everyday life of children as a tool for approaching urban space	93
5.4. Conclusion	96
5.5. References	98

Chapter 6. Social Citizenship and Social Movements in Response to Housing Needs	101
Marisol GARCÍA
6.1. Building up an urban social movement and achieving national recognition 2009–2011	106
6.2. The PAH innovative strategies and objectives . .	111
6.3. Public visibility in the media: amplifying social action	113
6.4. Achieving policy results 2012–2015	115
6.5. Institutionalizing policy from bottom-up claims: a fading away of the Platform’s presence from 2015	118
6.6. Conclusion	120
6.7. References	122
Chapter 7. Reading Perceptions of the “Other” Through the Debates and Public Discourses about Islamic Religious Practices and the Presence of Mosques in Athens	125
Penny KOUTROLIKOU
7.1. Spatialities of integration (of faith groups)	127
7.2. Religion and national identity in Greece	131
7.3. Migration and violence in Athens	134
7.4. The (almost) “invisible” mosques in Athens	137
7.5. Claims to recognition and acts of citizenship . . .	140
7.6. In the end...	143
7.7. References	145
List of Authors	151
Index	153