Preface . . . . .	ix
Introduction . . . . .	xi
Part 1. Static and Descriptive Innovation . . . . .	1
Chapter 1. Definition of Open Innovation and Collaborative Innovation . . . . .	3
1.1. Definition of open and collaborative innovation . . . . .	3
1.2. Basic characteristics. . . . .	9
1.2.1. From closed innovation to open innovation . . . . .	9
1.2.2. Serendipity. . . . .	13
1.2.3. Creativity. . . . .	15
1.2.4. The absorption capacity of firms. . . . .	16
1.2.5. The various degrees of innovation . . . . .	18
1.2.6. Exploration versus exploitation in innovation processes. . . . .	22
1.3. The creation of innovation and associated partnerships . . . . .	24
1.3.1. Dynamics of collaborative innovation production. . . . .	24
1.3.2. Forms of partnerships and degree of openness of innovation . . . . .	25
1.3.3. Collaborative models: from the triple helix to mode 2, via the NSI. . . . .	30
Chapter 2. History of the Evolution of Collaboration Between Actors, and Creation of Innovation Networks. . . . . .	33
2.1. Genesis of collaboration and its evolution through different innovation models . . . . .	33
2.1.1. History of collaboration . . . . .	33
2.1.2. Evolution of the innovation models used . . . . .	35

---

2.1.3. Top-down and bottom-up approaches . . . . .	37
2.1.4. Location of actors for collaboration and impact on the type of innovation . . . . .	42
2.2. Business ecosystems . . . . .	42
2.3. Partnership experience . . . . .	45
2.3.1. Creation of innovation networks . . . . .	45
2.3.2. Profiles of the partners involved in the collaboration . . . . .	48
2.3.3. Importance of the territorial level for the governance of innovation . . . . .	52
2.3.4. Emergence and use of collaborative platforms. . . . .	54
2.3.5. Intellectual property rights: license exchange and other notable examples of collaboration . . . . .	57
Part 2. Dynamic and Causal Innovation . . . . .	63
Chapter 3. The Reasons Behind Open Innovation and its Evolution . . . . .	65
3.1. Evolution of the use of collaborative innovation: from classical to new models . . . . .	65
3.1.1. FabLabs . . . . .	66
3.1.2. The Artlab . . . . .	68
3.1.3. Coworking spaces . . . . .	69
3.1.4. Hacker spaces and maker spaces . . . . .	71
3.1.5. Living Labs . . . . .	72
3.1.6. Creative Labs . . . . .	73
3.2. Diversity of collaborative forms: an organized space of actors based on geographical, social and organizational proximity. . . . .	74
3.2.1. The spatial organization of actors in the form of clusters . . . . .	74
3.2.2. Industrial districts. . . . .	81
3.2.3. National Innovation Systems and Local Innovation Systems . . . . .	82
3.3. The intermediaries of innovation . . . . .	83
3.4. Innovation jointly created with users. . . . .	89
Chapter 4. Advantages, Disadvantages and Issues Related to Collaborative Innovation . . . . .	99
4.1. Benefits of collaborative innovation for the actors involved . . . . .	99
4.1.1. The modes of knowledge transfer and their implications on collaborative innovation. . . . .	106
4.1.2. The role of collaborative innovation at the economic, social, societal and environmental levels . . . . .	108
4.1.3. Sectors conducive to open innovation. . . . .	122
4.2. Limitations of the open innovation paradigm. . . . .	124
